

There's Always Something

There's always something you can do, do, do

When you're getting in a stew, stew, stew.

You can go out for a walk, you can try and sit and talk

There's always something you can do.

There's always something you can do, do, do

Yes it's difficult but true, true, true

See it from each other's eyes, find a way to compromise

There's always something you can do, do, do

There's always something you can do, do, do

When you're getting in a stew, stew, stew.

When you want to take a poke, turn around and make a joke

There's always something you can do, do, do

Sarah Pirtle, "Two Hands Hold Earth"