

What Can We Learn

Up from the Ocean floor came the dinosaur.

He learned to live on the land

He grew lungs and legs, a tail and teeth

And spent his whole life looking for all he could eat.

*And what can we learn from the dinosaur
The way the world was a long time before you or I were around.*

Some ate the leaves of trees
Some ate the fish in the sea
Some of them even ate each other.

Some of them were big
Some of them were small
But when the ice age came
You know it froze them all.

*And what can we learn from the dinosaur
The way the world was a long time before you or I were around.*
